THE FERNS OF WALES,

By EDWARD YOUNG.

ILLUSTRATED BY CAREFULLY PRESERVED SPECIMENS OF THIRTY-FOUR SPECIES.

This splendid volume contains, in addition to the thirty-four species of Ferns, a View in Colours of the celebrated Melin Court Waterfall, Vale of Neath, Glamorganshire, from a Photograph by C. H. Waring, with other Illustrations.

The Author thinks it right to inform the Public, but more especially Fern lovers, that the Plants of WOODSIA ILVENSIS, which adorn the book, are not of British origin, but have been imported expressly from Norway, so that our native Woodsias, already sufficiently rare to see in a wild state, have not been reduced by the preparation of the present volume.

Just ready, dedicated by special permission to the Most Noble the MARCHIONESS OF BREADALBANE,

GLEANINGS AMONG THE BRITISH FERNS,
